After graduating from Columbia,
I'm hoping to be able to REACH confidence in my work and myself in this competitive industry.
Sometimes the pressure to succeed gets to me and prevents me from thriving. I wouldn't want to stop myself from being creative and true to myself ever.

URBAN ARTS FESTIVAL
20th Anniversary

What inspires me to REACH for my goals are other students and artists. When they're passionate about their art and you can see the time and effort paying off gives me inspiration. What has helped my REACH to the point where I am today are consistently making choices that would further my progress as a person. I can never stay stationary in my development anywhere. This applies to my jobs, my classes, as well as my artwork.

Often I wonder if my choices are the best ones that have let me REACH for this moment. I am comforted knowing that as long as I'm REACHing, I will catch a chance to continue climbing.

The Coalition of Female Creators (or CFC, for short) is a space for female students across majors to connect, collaborate, learn, and grow. Our goal is to REACH our campus's rich population of female creators, and to create a space where we can help each other to REACH our professional, creative, and personal goals.

I listen to a lot of music and follow a lot of other upcoming artists! Seeing them REACH their goals helps me do what's necessary to reach mine.

My artwork likes to experiment with the idea of cuteness. I have always loved the concept of cute things. Whether that be stuffed animals, clothes, or even food. I REACH towards their certain aesthetic. Because of my love for cute things, I draw girls in frilly pink clothing, with cute flowy hair and lots of different shades of pink. By showcasing this through my art, I hope to spread a little bit of happiness.

Goals that I hope to REACH for after Columbia is to be able to take what I learned in order to develop my skills on my own that could lead into a career either on my own or with a company. What I hope to REACH for with my work is to reach to other students in hopes of collaborations and learning from each other.

I REACH for my goals for a lot of reasons. I am inspired by the idea of proving those who have doubted me wrong, and by the idea of maybe inspiring a younger artist somewhere off in the future. The thing that most inspires me to REACH for my goals, though, is my mom's encouragement and support. I do not think I would feel so confident in REACHING for my goals if I didn't have this incredible kindness from her.

I hope to become a writer for TV as well as an all-around creative who never stops making things.

I hope to REACH a wide audience, but also specifically women who have experienced abuse. As an abuse survivor myself, I want to provide representation and entertainment through my work.

Lily and Jill are seated at a table, doing a jigsaw puzzle.

Lily

Jill

May.

I wanted to be Terry.

(gumming)

Lily

Why?

Lily

He likes yogurt.

Lily

You hate yogurt.

Lily

Yeah, but I like the idea of liking yogurt.

Lily

You like trivia and you're horny for spreadsheets, you're any.

Lily

Lily gumbles.

Jill

Who would I be?

Lily

Take.

Jill

Hold on.

Lily

A beat. Maybe some puzzling. Who's to say?

Lily

What about... Adventure Time?

Lily

Princess Bubblegum.

Lily

Fakes and Roar?

Lily

Tealish.

Lily

Shm-Sh?

Lily

Adora.

Lily

The Cottontail?

Jill

Have some self respect.

Lily

Too bad.

Lily

Beat. Perhaps some more puzzling. Who's to say?

Lily

What about... Bingo Crumpence's Sunday Jamboree?

Jill

Oh, you're a total Checkers Von Snoot all the way.

Lily

On what grounds?

Jill

On all grounds.

I always joke that if I could get paid to make spreadsheets and write but jokes for the rest of my life, I'd be happy. I use the word "joke" very loosely here. All the flowery, feel-good quips about "making a space for women in comedy" aside, my goal really is to REACH a point where I can get by writing silly, stupid things that make me happy, and hopefully, make others happy too.

On no grounds! There are no grounds! Starbucks is closing up shop for the day, because there are no grounds. Somebody better call the groundskeeper and tell him he lost his job, because there are no grounds. Aah! Help! There's a giant earthquake and I'm about to fall into the deepest depths of the earth! Because the ground is crumbling apart! So now there are no grounds!

Lily

(chuckling)

That's totally something Checkers Von Snoot would say.

Lily

Arggh, whatever. I'm going to a reliable source.

Lily

A Buzzfeed personality quiz?

Lily

(mocking baby voice)

"A Buzzfeed personality quiz?"

Lily

(aggressive)

Of course I'm taking a Buzzfeed personality quiz!

Lily

Lily pokes at her phone.

Lily

My favorite season. Autum-n, of course.

Lily

(taps screen)

Favorite munchy-lunch? A peanut butter potato chip sandwich.

Lily

Home Alone 2: Lost in New York.

If I could ask a genie for a pair of shiny new tap shoes, but as a consequence, I would turn into a frog for 48 hours, would I do it?

Lily

You know what?

Lily

(CONT'D)

Lily

I'm gonna say a hard "maybe."

Lily

(taps screen)

And the results are in! If I were a character in Bingo Crumpence's Sunday Jamboree, I would be...

Lily

(looks at screen, angry)

Checkers Von Snoot?

Lily

(tapping violently)

I'm changing some of my answers.

Lily

You can't lie to Buzzfeed. The CIA will find you. You're Checkers Von Snoot.

Lily

Would Checkers Von Snoot do this?

Lily

She does a spantic, stomp dance.

Jill

Season 2, Episode 12. "Dancey Dance at the Butterfly Cottillion."

Lily

Would Checkers Von Snoot do this?

Lily

She holds her chair on top of her head like a hat.

Jill

Season 4, Episode 6. "The Flapjack Family's Fancy Hat Parade."

Lily

Would Checkers Von Snoot do this?

Lily

She starts eating puzzle pieces.

Lily

(mouth full)

Mmm! Tummy delicious puzzle pieces! Scrummy-ummy-umptious snicky snacky puzzle pieces!

Lily

Jill plays a video on her phone.

Lily

(in video)

CHECKERS (O.S.)

Mmm! Scrummy-ummy-umptious snicky snacky puzzle pieces!

Lily

(in video)

Checkers Von Snoot, quit eating our puzzle!

Lily

(in video)

I can't! Eating puzzle pieces is one of my most defining character traits!

Lily

Lily spite out the puzzle pieces and puts her head down on the table. Jill pats her reassuringly.

Lily

Hey, it's okay. There's nothing wrong with being a Checkers Von Snoot. See, she isn't as playful as Paisley Knickerbocker. Or as talented as Madame Coochietter. Or even as good as Bingo Crumpence himself at managing her retirement savings. But you know what Checkers Von Snoot does have?

Lily

Lily lifts her head off the table a bit. Jill picks up puzzle pieces and puts them together as she lists traits.

Jill

She's got a great smile. She's got three national trophies in competitive Liddypunk. She's got connections to get into all the hottest work hops in Beetle Bug Junction. And just like Checkers, you've got all these cool and unique traits that come together like scrummy-ummy-umptious puzzle pieces to make you you.

Lily

(cooched)

That's so nice of you. You know, when you say things like that, it kind of makes me wish I could be more like you.

Jill

I was actually directly quoting Checkers Von Snoot, Season 6 Episode 14, "The Pappy Puzzle Pep Talk."

Lily

Lily slams her head back on the table.

Lily

Dang nugget.

Jill

Classic Checkers.
